Our Community of Supporters

Those members of our community who choose to make a lasting impact on health care through a will, retirement plan (IRA), life insurance policy or trust are welcomed into The Legacy Society of Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

Legacy Society members are invited to observe and celebrate the important advances happening in health care thanks to their support of the Medical Center’s mission to provide compassionate care, innovative research and world-class training. At Behind the Scenes events, our members are able to learn from and interact with our Medical Center experts in a wide range of fields.

To discuss joining our community of supporters, please contact Timothy A. Kaltenbach, Esq., executive director, trusts, estates and gift planning, at tim.kaltenbach@vumc.org or (615) 343-3119.

“When I thought about the thing that most impacts my life, I thought of Vanderbilt [University Medical Center]. There’s an incredible amount of work going on there. We’ve put our assets where they’re going to do the most good.”

~ Karen Kendrick-Baker, who made a gift through a will with her husband, Jerry Baker
MAKE A GIFT IN YOUR WILL
