Effective Pre-Screening of IMGs

Who, what, when, why and how?

Best Practices:

- Define institutional and program policies
- Accuracy and consistency in gathering and evaluating the facts
- Effective communication
Pre-Screening IMGs

- Education and Medical Credentials
- Program Priorities
- Immigration History and Options
- Applicant’s Personal Issues
Medical Education & Credentials

- Medical education
- Valid ECFMG Certificate
- Valid medical examinations
  - USMLE (FLEX, FMGEMS)
  - Dates, number of attempts, scores
  - Licensure requirement for position

Best Sources:
USMLE Transcript, CVS, ERAS, state medical license
Medical Education & Credentials

- Previous experience in U.S. or abroad
- U.S. board credit
- Change in specialty
- Research

Best Sources:
Institution, ERAS/CV, specialty board, ECFMG, physician
Program Priorities

- Best fit for program
- Begin training on time
- Successful progression in training
- Post training recruitment

Best Sources:
ERAS, program, physician
Immigration History & Options

- Current and previous visa status
  - Type/s of activity
  - Restrictions
  - Duration of stay in United States
- Consular processing
  - Security clearance

Best Sources:
ERAS / CV, U.S. sponsoring institution, physician
Applicant’s Personal Issues

- Dependents
  - Immigration status
  - Spouse’s profession
- Special needs / requests

Best Source:
Physician
Developing Best Practices

- Gather the facts
  - Be objective, ask the right questions

- Consider the options
  - Weigh the interest of institution, program and physician

- Communicate with all responsible parties
  - Seek consensus but insist on compliance

H-1B Temporary Worker

Core Requirements: the IMG

- Must have passed USMLE Steps 1, 2CK/2CS & 3 (includes Canadian medical school graduates)
- Must have a valid ECFMG Certificate (Canadian MGs exempt – graduates of Canadian medical schools take USMLE through the NBME, so no need for ECFMG)
- Must have either a training or permanent license to practice medicine
H-1B Temporary Worker

Core Requirements: the Employer

- Employer must pay salary/benefits (no self-funding or third party funding), must be at prevailing wage
- Approved Labor Condition Application (LCA, Form ETA 9035)
- Employer must pay all fees associated with filing of H-1B petition (application fees & attorney fees)
- Application fees $325 for regular processing, additional $1225 for premium processing (rates effective 11/23/2010).
H-1B Temporary Worker
Employer Requirements Continued

- Employer must pay the higher of the prevailing or actual wage.
- Prevailing wage must be from an approved source.
- U.S. Department of Labor has the right to question or deny an LCA if the source is unacceptable in their opinion.
- Employer must keep a public file which contains documentation of how the wage was determined and a comparison of the actual/prevailing wage.
H-1B Temporary Worker

Industry Survey

Employer Survey: an employer may hire a private survey company to conduct a survey. Employer cannot conduct their own survey.
H-1B Temporary Worker

Timing: 2 Types of Issues

Type 1: processing time issues, premium vs. regular processing; is time between “Match Day” and your June orientation enough? (Recommend setting a deadline for taking/receiving score on Step 3)

Type 2: duration is 6 years total; will your resident have enough time to complete all educational objectives? i.e. surgical specialties; lengthy fellowships
H-1B Temporary Worker

Special Topics

- Multiple worksites and short-term placement
  20 CFR 655.735 LCA
  Program training sites
  Elective rotations
  LCA responsibility
- 30 to 60 days in a fiscal year
- Considerations and filing

Other Visa Options

- A1-2 with EAD
- E-1/E-2 Spouse (only) with EAD
- E-3D with EAD
- J-2 with EAD
- K1-4 with EAD
- L-2 Spouse only with EAD
- NATO 1-6 Dependent with EAD

- T 1-4 with EAD
- V 1-3 with EAD
- Pending Permanent resident with EAD
- Permanent Resident
- Asylum applicant with EAD
- Refugee or Temporary Protected Status with EAD

EAD: Employment Authorization Document
Employment Authorization Documents (EADs)

- F-1 Optional Practical Training (OPT) encouraged for the first year out of U.S. Medical School in F1 status (adds 1 year to H1 time); Good for 12 months maximum
- Must apply before graduation with help from Foreign Student Advisor at F1 sponsoring university, and have EAD in hand to begin program
- OPT STEM extension of 17 months NOT available for residency training
EAD for J2

- J2 EAD is good for the duration of J1 Principal’s eligibility only (up to 5 years generally). If it is a long program, this may not allow enough time for completion.
- Two year home residency requirement may apply to dependent.
- Note: it takes time and filing fees to get the document.
- Consider: Is it discriminatory to disallow this status for your IMGs?
Not an Option

- TN (Trade NAFTA)
- Cannot be used for residency training
- May be used for research for individuals from Canada or Mexico
- O-1 Individuals of Extraordinary Ability or Achievement

Many More Options Off the J-1 & H-1B Beaten Path

Presenter on this Topic

- O-1 Extraordinary Ability
- Employment Authorization Documents (EAD)
- Plus Many Other Exotic Employment Authorization Options

O-1 Visa Basics

- A person who “has extraordinary ability in the sciences, arts, education, business or athletics which has been demonstrated by sustained national or international acclaim”
- Usually requires extensive evidence and supporting documentation
- No Requirement that the position requires a person of O-1 caliber
- Initial Validity of up to 3 years (extensions often available indefinitely)
- Can be Obtained within 15 days or less after filing if Premium Processing Is Used
Employment Authorization Documents (EAD Options)

- Usually based on Form I-765
- Many Options Including:
  - DED, TPS, F-1 OPT, J-2 Spouse, L-2 Spouse, E-2 Spouse,
  - (c)(9) Pending Adjustment Applicant on Extraordinary Ability, National Interest Waiver, Marriage-based application etc.,
  - Deferred Action, Suspension of Deportation, and many more
Other More Exotic Employment Options

- More than 100 additional options
- Infrequently used but can be valuable
- Most are personal immigrant options
- Immigrant can pursue without the knowledge, consent or cooperation of the Employer
- Unlike the H-1, usually the Physician hires the lawyer and pays for these exotic options
Pre-Employment Inquiries Regarding Sponsorship for an Employment Visa: What is Permissible?

- “Are you legally authorized to work in the United States? Yes or No”
- “Will you now or in the future require sponsorship for employment visa status (e.g. H-1B visa status)? Yes or No”

Best Practices

- Plan in Advance
- Have A Policy
  - J-1s Only?
  - H-1s or J-1s both ok?
  - General Policy plus exceptions?
Best Practices

Recommendation:
- Whatever General Policy is selected, allow for exceptions (e.g. by special permission on written application to an Ad Hoc Committee)

Warning on a “J-1 only” policy:
- Appears simpler in the short term
- But, can hurt long term career and immigration interests of the Institution (particularly Academic Medical Centers), Physician, and Family
