Certified Nurse Practitioner:
- Obtain and document a health history;
- Perform and document complete, system-focused, or symptom-specific physical examination;
- Assess the need for and perform additional screening and diagnostic testing, based on initial assessment findings;
- Prioritize data collection;
- Perform daily rounds/clinic visits on assigned patient population;
- Document daily progress notes, plan of care, evaluation and discharge summary;
- Manage diagnostic tests through ordering and interpretation;
- Formulate differential diagnoses by priority;
- Prescribe appropriate pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment modalities.
- Utilize evidence-based, approved practice protocols in planning and implementing care;
- Initiate appropriate referrals and consultations;
- Provide specialty specific consultation services upon request and within specialty scope of practice;
- Facilitate the patient’s transition between and within health care settings, such as admitting, transferring, and discharging patients.
- Demonstrate competency specific to the patient population of care, as indicated in area specific competency training, assessment and validation process.

Certified Nurse Midwife:
- Perform and document complete, system-focused, or symptom-specific physical examination;
- Assess the need for and perform appropriate screening and diagnostic testing.
- Formulate differential diagnoses by priority.
- Manage diagnostic tests through ordering and interpretation.
- Prioritize data collection.
- Perform daily rounds/clinic visits on assigned patient population.
- Document daily progress notes, plan of care, ongoing evaluation and discharge summary.
- Prescribe appropriate pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment modalities.
- Utilize evidence-based, approved practice guidelines in planning and implementing care.
- Initiate appropriate referrals and consultations.
- Provide specialty specific consultation services upon request and within specialty scope of practice.
- Facilitate the patient’s transition between and within health care settings, such as admitting, transferring, and discharging.
- Core procedures as incorporated in ACNM Core Competencies for Basic Midwifery Practice, latest edition, are hereby incorporated by reference.

Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist:
- Performance of pre-anesthetic assessments including a pertinent medical history, physical examination, and review of medical records
- Formulation of an anesthetic care plan in consultation with the assigned anesthesiologist
- Induction and maintenance of anesthesia with all commonly used agents and monitoring devices; management of emergence from anesthesia; airway maintenance including bag/mask ventilation, laryngeal mask airways, and intubation of the trachea
- Anticipating and identifying common complications during the perioperative period, initiating treatment as indicated, and communicating problems to the anesthesiologist supervising the specific case or other appropriate staff members
- Anesthetic management of urgent and emergent conditions
- All elements of CRNA scope of practice as recommended by the 2010 AANA Scope and Standards for Nurse Anesthesia Practice document

©2016 Vanderbilt University. All rights reserved. Inquiries: Office of Advanced Practice, Vanderbilt University Medical Center
Physician Assistant
- Obtain and document a health history;
- Perform and document complete, system-focused, or symptom-specific physical examination;
- Assess the need for and perform additional screening and diagnostic testing, based on initial assessment findings;
- Prioritize data collection;
- Perform daily rounds/clinic visits on assigned patient population;
- Document clinic or daily progress notes, plan of care, evaluation and discharge summary;
- Manage diagnostic tests through ordering and interpretation;
- Formulate differential diagnoses by priority;
- Prescribe appropriate pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment modalities.
- Utilize evidence-based, approved practice guidelines in planning and implementing care;
- Initiate appropriate referrals and consultations;
- Provide specialty specific consultation services upon request and within specialty scope of practice;
- Facilitate the patient’s transition between and within health care settings, such as admitting, transferring, and discharging patients.
- Demonstrate competency specific to the patient population of care, as indicated in area specific competency training, assessment and validation process.

Certified Clinical Nurse Specialist:
- Obtain and document a health history;
- Perform and document complete, system-focused, or symptom-specific physical examination;
- Assess the need for and perform additional screening and diagnostic testing, based on initial assessment findings;
- Prioritize data collection;
- Perform daily rounds/clinic visits on assigned patient population;
- Document daily progress notes, plan of care, evaluation and discharge summary;
- Manage diagnostic tests through ordering and interpretation;
- Formulate differential diagnoses by priority;
- Prescribe appropriate pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment modalities.
- Utilize evidence-based, approved practice protocols in planning and implementing care;
- Initiate appropriate referrals and consultations;
- Provide specialty specific consultation services upon request and within specialty scope of practice;
- Facilitate the patient’s transition between and within health care settings, such as admitting, transferring, and discharging patients.
- Develop patient population specific educational materials and programs for delivery of education.