ABOUT OUR SPEAKERS

Lesa Cole, MSN, RN-BC
Lesa graduated from Indiana University with a BSN and went on to earn her MSN from Walden University. She began her nursing career in an ICU setting in 1992 and has held positions as a staff nurse in cardiovascular recovery and perioperative services, case management, nursing management, and clinical education. She currently works as a Nursing Professional Development Specialist with VUMC’s Nursing Education and Professional Development overseeing the Nurse Residency Program, VESNIP, and Certification Review Courses; she is also a Contact Hour Nurse Planner. Lesa has been involved with preceptor development for nearly a decade where she designed and implemented two preceptor programs. As part of the Preceptor Treasures team, Lesa draws upon her past experiences as a preceptor for students, new employees, and graduate students.

Christie El-Shishini, MSN, RN, CPNP
Christie began working at Monroe Carell Jr. Children’s Hospital at Vanderbilt in 1999. Initially, she was a clinical nurse in pediatric surgery and trauma, but she then went on to teach in the Pediatric Nurse Practitioner program at Vanderbilt University School of Nursing (VUSN). She has also taught pediatrics at Aquinas College School of Nursing. Christie received her BSN from Spring Hill College in Mobile, Alabama and her MSN from VUSN. Christie, a Certified Pediatric Nurse Practitioner, currently works in Nursing Education and Professional Development within Children’s Hospital. Throughout her nursing career, Christie has held various roles including precepting acute care nurses, mentoring nursing students, coaching pediatric nurse residents, and guiding staff through the Frontline Leadership Program.

Nursing Education and Professional Development presents

Preceptor Treasures
unlocking hidden gems

Preceptors role in onboarding health care professionals extends to aiding in the successful transition to new work environments, competency development, and even job satisfaction. It’s a given that our Preceptors are gems!

Preceptor Treasures focuses on excavating the hidden talents of the most valued assets in healthcare through workshops and support.

We offer two preceptor-focused workshops open to all health care professionals (not just nurses) and to both VUMC staff and non-VUMC staff.

Workshops 1 & 2 are offered monthly, excluding July and December. For details, visit: VanderbiltPreceptors.com
