Discharge Information

Thank you for choosing Spring Hill Imaging as your provider today.

In an effort to provide you with the best possible service,
the information below is provided regarding your results.

1. When will my results be ready?

All imaging exams are reviewed and reported by a Radiologist. To ensure that you receive the highest quality of care, your exam today will be compared to any prior procedures performed at Spring Hill Imaging. You may have brought images with you from an outside provider that our Radiologist will compare. This process can take several minutes to several hours depending on the complexity of each case. Once the Radiologist reports your study it is sent by fax to your referring Physician.

2. How will I be notified of my results?

Your referring Physician will contact you to discuss your results.

3. How long does this take?

Our goal is to complete the review and reporting of your exam images within 24-48 hours. The report is then faxed to your Physician. Please remember that your Physician is still seeing patients all day and may need to wait for results of other tests that were ordered before contacting you. This assists in providing you the best care possible.

4. Why can't the Technologist give me my results?

The best quality care is to obtain radiologist -interpreted results through your Physician. Your Physician knows your complete health history and can discuss all test results and answer your questions.

5. Can I get a copy of my report?

Yes, you may contact us and come get a copy of your results. You can come back into the center to get a copy of your results. However, if you are a Vanderbilt patient, you can access them online through www.myhealthatvanderbilt.com. Your report should be available online within 5-7 business days of your procedure.
